

Role Analysis and Application Groups for Group Relations Conferences and Beyond

Dates: May 4-6, 2018

Location: Boston College, Stokes Hall, Room 201

Sponsor: Group Relations International-East and Boston College

Workshop Leaders:

Tracy Wallach, Ph.D., LICSW Janice Wagner, LICSW

Group Relations International (East) is offering a weekend workshop on Role Analysis and Application. This workshop will review multiple models for analyzing role and offer participants the opportunity to practice various techniques for role analysis and review and application for use within both conference and professional settings.

The workshop is appropriate for those who want to better understand their previous Group Relations Conference experience, and those who want to deepen their understanding of role and role analysis in other professional settings. GRC experience is helpful, but not a pre-requisite. The number of participants will be limited.

Schedule:

Friday, May 4, 4:00 PM to 8:00 PM

Saturday, May 5, 9:00 AM to 5:30 AM

Sunday, May 6, 9:00 AM to 1:00 PM

Fees:

$425 General

$350 Students, GRI/BC Affiliation

Registration: at <http://www.123formbuilder.com/form-2380675/My-Form>

Faculty:

Tracy Wallach, Ph.D., M.S.W., is a Senior Lecturer at the University of Massachusetts, Boston, in the Gender, Leadership, and Public Policy Program (McCormack Graduate School of Public Policy), where she teaches leadership. She has served as a visiting lecturer and scholar at Sha'anxi Normal University in Xi'an, China; Sabanci University in Istanbul; and Al Quds University in Jerusalem, where she has taught seminars and workshops on leadership and organizational dynamics. Dr. Wallach is a registered Analytic-Network™ Coach and organizational development and Leadership Consultant. A Past- President of the Center for the Study of Groups and Social Systems (Boston Affiliate, AKRI), and a past board member of A.K. Rice Institute for the Study of Social Systems, she has consulted to numerous group relations conferences in the U.S. and internationally. Her research findings on participant learning in group relations conferences have been published in Organizational and Social Dynamics.

Janice K. Wagner, LICSW, maintains an independent private practice in Boston where she provides psychotherapy, clinical supervision, consultation and coaching. She is a member and past-president of the Center for the Study of Groups and Social Systems in the Boston area and is an associate of the A. K. Rice Institute for the Study of Social Systems. Ms. Wagner has been a participant in group relations conferences in the US and abroad, in member and staff roles since 1999. She is a mentor in the A.K. Rice Institute's training and certification program. Additionally, Ms. Wagner is a volunteer for the Asylum Program at Community Legal Services and Counselling Center in Cambridge, MA. After many years of working in educational, healthcare and social service organizations, Ms. Wagner is experimenting with work life in the new 'gig-economy' with curiosity and pleasure.

For training information:

Tracy Wallach, dr.tracywallach@gmail.com

For registration and logistical information and assistance:

Evangeline Sarda, sarda@bc.edu

Refreshments: Light refreshments will be served. Meals and accommodations are the responsibility of the participant. Food is available in campus cafeterias or in nearby off-campus establishments.

A list of nearby accommodations can be found here:

<https://www.bc.edu/admission/undergrad/visits/campusvisit/hotels.html>

Address: Boston College, 140 Commonwealth Avenue, Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts 02467

Directions and parking information can be found here: <https://www.bc.edu/bc-web/about/maps-and-directions/directions.html>

Campus Map can be found here: https://www.bc.edu/content/dam/bc1/top-tier/maps/Chestnut%20Hill%20Map%20color%209_12_17%20w%20grid.pdf